WHITE SOX FEEL MORE CONFIDENT

Shutout Victory Over Cincinnati Put Them on Their Fighting Toes

GLEASON MAY SEND CICOTTE TO MOUND

Game Declares He Is "Ready"

Clricago, Oct. 4.-Reassured by shutting out the Reds in the third game of the world's series, the White Sox to-

The Reds did not believe they again would encounter such marvelous pitching as shown by Kerr, midget hurler of the White Sox, and asserted their expectations of having no hard time with the shine and knuckle ball Cicotte would serve up or with any other Sox twirler. The Sox claimed the Reds won the two games at Cincinnati only through breaks, out the visitors ridiculed such claims. Having familiarized themselves with Comiskey park, Manager Moran's winners of the National league race were confident of a better showing to-day.

Crowds began forming about the park before midnight last night and indicated that the 35,000 capacity of the enclosure would be taxed to-day. The approximately 4,000 vacant seats in bleachers and pavilion vesterday could not be regarded as indicative of the interest of Chicago and other middle western fans in the spries, according to the management hough such a situation plainly was dis-

By noon yesterday ten thousand persons were in line before the gate to the paylion and bleachers and it was said nundreds bent on witnessing the open ing clash here lost heart, and despair ing of gaining entrance by game time, turned to the mechanical score boards downtown, and the newspapers.

No announcement from either Gleasor or Moran was forthcoming early to-day as to their pitching selections for to day's game, but it generally was believed that Cicotte would be sent back to face the Reds' bat that drove him from the box in the first game at Cincinnati and either Reuther or "Hod" Eller would be the Reds' moundsman.

White Sox supporters figured on see ing Reuther putting over his left hand slants in view of the two Reds' southpaw victories and the defeat of a right hander yesterday. Cicotte, who said he was unnerved by hitting a batsman at Cincinnati, told Gleason he was ready to start again. Gleason, as usual, seemed willing to trust Cicotte's word that he was "ready. Showers and cooler weather were prefavor of the Sox again.

Chicago, Oct. 3.-Kerr's phenomenal pitching gave the White Sox the victory n the third world's series game here yesterday, the score being 3 to 0. Kerr allowed the Cincinnati Reds three hits, scattered through as many innings, and the entire game were they even in a position to score. pitched fair ball for Cincinnati but his fielding was not so good, an error by him being a contributing factor in the White Sox seoring.

The Sox, however, obtained seven hits and several of them were at fairly opportune times. The score:

GATE RECEIPTS MAY BE BEATEN THIS YEAR

Pitcher Defeated in First It Is Too Early to Make Prediction with Accuracy But Revival of Popularity of Baseball and Intense Rivalry of Two Clubs May Cause It.

Chicago, Oct. 4 .- While it is yet too early to state definitely that the world series attendance and gate receipts recday declared they were ready to back up Eddie Cicotte, their one-time battered ace, with the fighting spirit that brought them the pennant in the American league, and even up the series at 2-2.

The Rade did not believe they controlled the property of th ularity of baseball and the intense rival ry between the two competing clubs pens the way for new figures under the agreement to play the best five out

Under the former arrangement of the best four out of seven games the records show that the average of the series since 1903 has been very close to six games. This has led shrewd judges to point out that the present battle for the premier the breezes, shadows and sun spots of baseball title will likely run seven or eight games before a winner is produced. Of the 15 series played since 1903 but three exceeded six games. The struggle between the Boston Americans and the New York Nationals in 1912 was one of the two eight-game series and the record holder to date for both attendance and gate receipts.

With the Cincinnati park seating 33,-000 spectators and Comiskey park 36,000. the attendance for eight games would approximate some 275,000 and even a seven-game series would bring the figures within a few thousand of the record of 251,901 made in 1912. It is not so easy to estimate the gate receipts but at the present rate of admission and charges or reserved seats and boxes, it appears quite likely that the record receipts of $490,500 collected in 1912 may be sur-

If such is the case it is doubtful, how the Red Sox battled for eight games before the latter team brought the conflict to a close in one of the most dramatic games in the history of the post-season play. That year the teams divided a rifle more than $147,000, giving each of the winning Boston players $4,022 and the losing New Yorkers $2,566. In those days the two teams divided 60 per cent of 90 per cent of the gate receipts of the first four games upon a 60 and 40 per cent basis. In the present series the distribution is far more complexed and the money reaches a number of destinations never thought of seven years ago. It requires a public accountant well provided with illuminating charts to trace the moneys dieted for to-day. Betting to-day was in to their final resting place. To begin with, the national commission, as usual, In the event that Manager Moran takes its 10 per cent first from the reelects to return his star pitcher, Hatter ceipts of each and every game. During Reuther, to the mound to-day. John Collins, right hand hitter, will displace two teams take 60 per cent and the club Nemo Liebold in right field. Collins was owners the 40 per cent of the remaining

Much to their regret, however, they right hander is the choice, Liebold will are not permitted to keep any such lavish emolument. Of the players' pool 25 per cent is immediately set aside for the second and third teams of the two competing leagues; 60 per cent going to the unners-up to the pennant winners and 40 per cent to the third-place combina-tions. The remaining 75 per cent is divided among the actual playing teams, one base on balls, and at no time during the world series winners receiving 60 the statistics which will be gathered by owners of the two clubs fare even worse, month of January, 1920. as they must give over 50 per cent of to be divided among the other clubs at a later date. After five games the players
